Additional info:

The case is made exclusively of plastic and shows some design peculiarities on the top. The basic black design is ornamented by diagonal, thin, red lines. This gives the notebook an individualistic look and underlines its gaming ambitions. The contrasting dark red can be noticed all through the unit, also when the lid is open. Although the display frame is kept in black, the black keys present red lettering, the touchpad has a red frame, and the base plate is also lightly colored in dark red. Unfortunately the beautiful lacquer magically attracts fingerprints and gets smudged easily.

The solid hinges offer good stability, though Asphalt 9: Legends Apk Mod at a pinch, the FX553 can be opened also with one hand. Compared to its FX502 sibling, the lid with the screen is even more flexible. A slight pressure on the closed lid leaves a very spongy impression. The plastic of the hand rest and under the keyboard gives in minimally, which, however, unlike the lid, remains within normal range. As in the review of the FX502, some isolated minimal gaps are also apparent between the display and inner frame. Overall, the top of the case cannot be called particularly stable. The bottom offers a better impression, nothing wobbles or creaks. On the left side is the air apk vent, which is also framed in red.
